NEW MEXICO WITHHOLDING TAX Effective January 1, 2020

Please note: Employees should use the correct number of withholding allowances if using pre-2020 W-4 forms because 2020 federal withholding tables continue to apply allowances for federal withholding calculations. Employees may continue to use any W-4 form for New Mexico withholding but the 2020 withholding tables in this publication should be used. There will no longer be adjustments due to the number of allowances for New Mexico withholding.

Starting tax year 2019, the Department started requiring electronic submittal of income and withholding information returns if you have 25 or more employees. The information is due at the end of January. Electronic submissions can be submitted using the Taxpayer Access Point at <https://tap.state.nm.us>

This publication contains general information on the New Mexico withholding tax and tables for the percentage method of withholding tax. Taxpayers should be aware that subsequent legislation, regulations, court decisions, revenue rulings, notices and announcements may affect the accuracy of its contents. Please contact the district tax office nearest you or check the department's web site at www.tax.newmexico.gov for more information.

GENERAL INFORMATION FOR NEW MEXICO WITHHOLDING TAX

New Mexico withholding tax is like federal withholding tax. It is based on an estimate of an employee's New Mexico income tax liability and is credited against the employee's actual income tax liability on the New Mexico personal income tax return.

Changes for 2020

The Federal government has issued a revised W-4 form for tax year 2020. The 2020 W-4 form will not require employees to certify the number of allowances for federal withholding purposes. Per federal guidelines, employers can have both 2020 W-4 forms and pre-2020 W-4 forms on file for their employees depending on when they started employment.

New Mexico does not have a state equivalent of the federal W-4 form. Employees should complete a copy of the federal W-4 for New Mexico, writing "For New Mexico State Withholding Only" across the top in prominent letters. Keep the New Mexico W-4 in the employee's personnel file. This duplicate W-4 is not mandatory. It is a convenience for employer and employee. Employees who have income that is exempt from New Mexico tax (for example, Native Americans working and living on their tribal land; military members with income from active duty military service) should not have New Mexico tax withheld. Employees with exempt income should indicate "exempt" on line 7 of the pre-2020 Federal W-4 form or below Step 4(c) on the 2020 Federal Form W-4.

Due to changes in federal law, state income tax liability is not reduced based on the number of personal exemptions claimed by a taxpayer. Although the Standard Deduction amount was increased for all taxpayers the tax liability will likely increase for households with 2 or more dependents. The withholding tables in this publication have been updated to reflect these changes and the change to the federal W-4 by removing withholding allowance deduction amounts from wages. Employees will see an increase in their withholding tax as a result of these changes and to federal law. The Department would recommend that you communicate these changes with your employees. It will be in their best benefit to look at both the withholding changes for the federal and state and determine if they would like an additional amount of withholding taken from their checks for each pay period.

Your employees may opt to have an additional amount of money taken out from their paychecks for New Mexico withholding purposes. This can be requested by employees on their Form W-4. Note: New Mexico does not have its own withholding form but uses the Internal Revenue Service Form W-4.

The Department's guidance on withholding relies on the Internal Revenue Service information for accuracy, this publication is subject to revision as further guidance from the Internal Revenue Service is released.

Who Must Withhold

Every employer, including employers of some agricultural workers, who withholds a portion of an employee's wages for payment of federal income tax must withhold New Mexico income tax. There is a limited exception for certain nonresident employees (See Note 2 below.)

"Employer" means a person or an employee of that person, doing business in New Mexico or deriving income from New Mexico sources who pays wages to an employee for services performed. An employer is the person having control of the payment of wages.

"Employee" means a New Mexico resident who performs services either within or without the state for an employer, or a nonresident of New Mexico who performs services within the state for an employer.

"Wages" means remuneration in cash or other form for services performed by an employee for an employer.

Notes:

- 1) Pension and annuity income of a New Mexico resident is subject to income tax in New Mexico, but New Mexico does not require payers to withhold state income tax on pensions and annuities unless the payee requests the payer of their retirement benefits to withhold state tax. To report withholding tax, a payer must be registered with the state under the Combined Reporting System (CRS).
- 2) Employers are not required to withhold New Mexico income tax from wages of nonresident employees working in New Mexico for 15 or fewer days during the calendar year.
- 3) Persons who are self-employed should not report withholding tax on their wages. Self-employed individuals should make estimated payments using the Form PIT-ES.

Amount to Withhold

Refer to the New Mexico State Wage Withholding Tax Tables for Percentage Method of Withholding on page 4 of this publication for the amount to withhold. No withholding is required if the total withholding for an employee during any one month is less than one dollar. For New Mexico residents the employer is required to withhold New Mexico income tax from all wages of the employee regardless of the employee's work location. For nonresident employees, the employer is required to withhold New Mexico income tax only from wages the employee earns within the state. Refer to definitions of "employer," "employee" and "wages" to determine if withholding tax is required.

How to use the Withholding Tax Tables

Determine the amount to withhold from the appropriate tax tables starting on page 5 based on the payroll period and the employee's filing status.

Example: A married employee has taxable wages of $1,000.00 weekly. This employee has also asked that an additional $20.00 be taken out of their check each pay period.

1. Taxable weekly wage payment $1,000.00
2. Table 1 (b): If the amount of wages is over $700 but not over $1,008. The amount of state tax withheld shall be $14.77 + 4.9% of excess over $700.
3. $$1000.00 - $700.00 = $300.00 \times 0.049 = \14.70
4. $$14.77 + $14.70 = $29.47$ withholding tax due
5. $$29.47 + \20.00 (Additional withholding requested by employee) = $49.47.

How and When to Report and Pay Withholding Taxes

You should report withholding, gross receipts and compensating taxes on the Form CRS-1 or file online at <https://tap.state.nm.us>. The Form CRS-1 and tax are due on the 25th of the month following the end of your reporting period. If the 25th is on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the Form CRS-1 is due the next business day. The Department uses the postmark date on the envelope to determine if the paper return was filed on time. A Form CRS-1 must be filed whether or not any tax is due. If no tax is due, file a "zero" report. Do not mail cash to the Department.

Taxpayers who need to file withholding information with the Department may do so online at <https://tap.state.nm.us>.

NOTE: Reporting withholding information to the Department of Workforce Solutions and the Workers Compensation Administration does not fulfill your obligation to report and pay withholding tax to the Taxation and Revenue Department. Taxpayers must still file and pay using one of the methods described in the above paragraph.

If you change your business name or address or need to cancel your CRS I.D. number, use Form ACD-31015, Business Tax Registration Form available from your local district office or online at www.tax.newmexico.gov. Your reporting obligation does not cease automatically when you stop doing business or paying wages. You must notify the Department to cancel your CRS I.D. number.

Child support withholding is NOT reported on the Form CRS-1. For information about child support withholding you will need to contact the Human Services Department at 505-827-7200.

If you use the cumulative method of withholding for federal withholding, you may use this same method for your state withholding.

Additional Withholding Amounts

Many employees request additional amounts be withheld for federal purposes (see Form W-4), but very few consider additional withholding for state purposes. The recommended level of additional withholding for state tax purposes is 30% of any additional federal withholding amount.

Withholding on Gambling Winnings

Operators, including nonprofit entities, of gambling establishments (racetracks, casinos, state lottery, bingo) must withhold 6% from winnings or submit information returns for state purposes if they are required to withhold or report for federal purposes. Operators must report and pay over the amount of state tax withheld from gambling winnings on the Form CRS-1. Withholding is required for both residents and nonresidents.

Withholding Tax Reporting Forms

Every person who has withheld state tax during the year from wages, pensions, annuities or gambling winnings is required to file an annual statement of withholding on or before the last day of January for each employee, pension or annuity recipient, or gambling winner. New Mexico accepts the state copy of Federal Form W-2, W2-G, 1042-S, Foreign Person's U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding and 1099R, or any substitute form acceptable to the Internal Revenue Service so long as it reflects the withholders name, address and identification number, the recipient's name and social security number, and the amount of New Mexico income and withholding. If you, as an employer, have established a medical care savings account program for your employees, it is your responsibility to determine what amounts are exempt from taxation. Reduce the New Mexico taxable wages reported on Federal Form W-2 by amounts established by the employer (or account administrator) as exempt from income tax.

NOTE: Starting tax year 2019, the Department started requiring electronic submittal of income and withholding information returns if you have 25 or more employees. The information is due at the end of January. Electronic submissions can be submitted using TAP at <https://tap.state.nm.us>

Annual Reconciliation

New Mexico withholding taxpayers may file Form RPD-41072, Annual Summary of Withholding Tax for CRS-1 Filers. The report is available for taxpayers use but is not required to be filed. This report will allow you to reconcile the total amounts shown as withheld on annual statements of withholding information returns furnished to withholders (Federal Forms W-2, W-2G or 1099R) with the total tax withheld and paid to New Mexico on Form CRS-1. If you have underreported withholding on your Form CRS-1, attach amended returns for the period(s) in which underreporting occurred and remit the difference. If you have overpaid withholding on your Form CRS-1, attach Form RPD-41071, Application for Refund and amended returns for the period(s) in which overpayments occurred. For more information on this see FYI-330, Income and Withholding Information Returns and Filing Methods.

Withholding from Irregular or Supplemental Wages or Fringe Benefits

The same method used for calculating federal withholding on irregular or supplemental wages should be used for state withholding. If you use the cumulative method of withholding for federal withholding, you may use this same method for state withholding. If you withhold from fringe benefits for federal purposes, you must also withhold from fringe benefits for state purposes using the same method used for calculating federal withholding. If the federal withholding is calculated using a flat percent, a flat 4.9 percent of the supplemental wage or fringe benefit amount should be withheld for state tax purposes.

NOTE: In the case of a married employee who has elected to be withheld at the higher single rate for federal purposes, the single rate for New Mexico state withholding purposes must also be used.

Special Situations

Generally, if an employee's withholding is correct for federal purposes, it will be correct for state income tax purposes, but there are certain situations in which an employee may be correctly withholding for federal purposes but under withhold for state purposes:

- 1) If the employee has supplemental, overtime pay, bonuses that are paid separately from their normal wages the Department recommends using Table 8 on page 7.
- 2) If the employee increased W-4 allowances to offset expected federal tax credits such as the Child Tax Credit or credits for child or dependent care expenses. (If the employee wishes to reduce their withholding for state purposes they can use the 2020 Federal Form W-4 (Step 4b)
- 3) If the employee requested that additional amounts be withheld for federal purposes.

There are also situations where individuals may have income that is subject to federal taxation but exempt for New Mexico. In these situations, New Mexico withholding on the exempt income would not be necessary.

Examples of income exempt from New Mexico tax are:

- 1) Income of a Native American who is a member of a New Mexico federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo that was wholly earned on the lands of the reservation or pueblo of which the individual is an enrolled member while domiciled on that land, reservation or pueblo.
- 2) Income from active duty military service.

Employment may require some New Mexico residents to spend extensive time in another state with an income tax that is comparable to the New Mexico income tax. Residents of New Mexico are generally subject to New Mexico income tax on all their income, but if that income is also taxed by another state New Mexico allows a credit for the other state's income tax on that income on their personal income tax return. New Mexico withholding tax can be reduced or eliminated on such wages. To reduce or eliminate withholding on such wages, taxpayers on their Form W-4 for New Mexico withholding tax.

For Further Information

If employees express concern about their withholding, you may recommend that they obtain the following publications:

- Internal Revenue Service Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate. (New Mexico does not have a state equivalent of the federal W-4 form. Employees should complete a copy of the federal W-4 for New Mexico, writing "For New Mexico State Withholding Only" across the top in prominent letters.

TAXPAYER INFORMATION

The Department offers a variety of taxpayer information. Some information is free and other information must be purchased.

General Information. FYIs and Bulletins present general information with minimum technical language. All FYIs and Bulletins are free and available through all local tax offices, the Tax Information and Policy Office, and on the Internet. The Taxation and Revenue Department's Internet address is:

<http://www.tax.newmexico.gov>

Regulations. The Department establishes regulations to interpret and exemplify the various tax acts it administers. The Taxation and Revenue Department regulation book is available from the New Mexico Compilation Commission on a prepaid basis. Rulings. Rulings signed by the Secretary and approved by the Attorney General are written statements that apply to one or a small number of taxpayers. A taxpayer may request a ruling (at no charge) to clarify its tax liability or responsibility under specific circumstances. The request for a ruling must be in writing, include accurate taxpayer identification and the details about the taxpayer's situation, and be addressed to the Secretary of the Taxation and Revenue Department at P.O. Box 630, Santa Fe, NM 87504-0630. The taxpayer's representative, such as an accountant or attorney, may request a ruling on behalf of the taxpayer but must disclose the name of the taxpayer. While the Department is not required to issue a ruling when requested to do so, every request is carefully considered.

The Department will not issue a ruling to a taxpayer who is undergoing an audit, who has an outstanding assessment, or who is involved in a protest or litigation with the Department over the subject matter of the request. The Secretary may modify or withdraw any previously issued ruling and is required to withdraw or modify any ruling when subsequent legislation, regulations, final court decisions or other rulings invalidate a ruling or portions of a ruling. Taxation and Revenue Department rulings are compiled and available on the Department's web page free of charge at www.tax.newmexico.gov. Click on "tax library."

Public Decisions & Orders. All public decisions and orders issued by the hearing officers since July 1994 are compiled and available on the Department's web page free of charge at www.tax.newmexico.gov under the "tax library" link.
